

Intelligate office building

The Intelligate office building was completed very swiftly.

The Intelligate office building was completed very swiftly - the first occupant was able to move into the building less than a year after construction work commenced.

The exterior appearance of the building represents a contemporary style of construction. Specific attention was paid to the durability and longevity of materials. During the structural design phase, a solution consisting of a steel frame and hollow-core slabs was chosen because of its lightness. The premises can easily be customised according to the needs of the occupants. The outer walls and the relatively sparsely placed columns constitute the only solid structures.
