Being responsive and professional when interacting with the customer allowed Ruukki to lay a strong foundation for cooperation.
The customer wanted the panel walls to look as clean as possible, so Ruukki had a major competitive advantage here with its use of concealed fixings. The building was supplied with Ruukki's vertical sandwich panels.
The customer was happy with the façade solutions provided for the Lookivi Park complex, which were made possible through Ruukki's professional advice and commitment to the partnership.
