Pereš Park, a new shopping centre, opened at the beginning of 2018. Ruukki delivered a ventilated façade for this building.

The building façade has already got lot of feedback, not only from the investor and the local municipality, but also from ordinary people – residents and the visitors. The appropriately chosen shape, materials, colours and details give the building character and personality, and good architecture is in harmony with and becomes an essential part of the surroundings. Ruukki, together with investor and building contractor K&C Group Košice, suggested the most suitable solutions and products, and delivered silver-colour sandwich panels with flat profiling and gold-colour Liberta elegant 500 rainscreen panels as façade claddings.
