

Sthlm04 office building in Sweden

Entitled Point of View, the vast 18 x 33m piece covers the entire wall and uses the Ruukki Expression energy-saving facade panels from Ruukki. Artist Jesper Nyrén began work on the colourful facade in July, 2020 and it can now be enjoyed in its entirety.

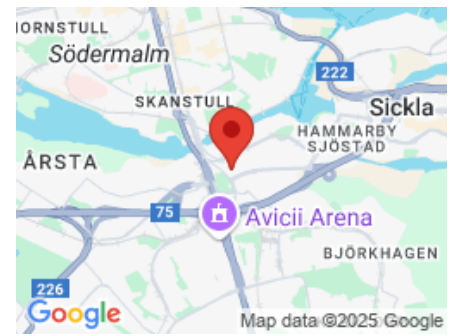

Related products

- > Sandwich panels for external walls
- > Taped pictures for walls

Partners

- > Constructon company: Skanska
- > Installation company: BJ Svets AB
- > Design: Jespen Nyrén
- > Year: 2020

In southern Stockholm, a unique art installation created with Ruukki's sandwich facade panels entrances the viewer. Together with artist, Jesper Nyrén, Ruukki's colourful facade on the new Sthlm 04 building gives a colorful backdrop to the public spaces that surround it.

"The challenge is to bring together the different components in the right order during the installation, but we've done many similar projects. It's a case of having the right preparation and being methodical and patient. We've a good routine these days," says Martin Eriksson, business manager at Ruukki in Sweden.

