The Kaštanová Living and Design Center is a showroom and business premises in Brno, the second largest city in the Czech Republic. The building is home to 50 companies making construction products, and features around 4,000 square metres of showroom space for customers. On top of this, there are around 500 square metres of conference facilities that are hired out to customers, as well as some 1,000 square metres of office space.

Ruukki supplied a Ruukki Forma façade system that included silver-coloured sandwich panels used in the walls and gold-coloured Ruukki Liberta Elegant rainscreen panels used for the cladding.

“Kaštanová has met all our expectations with regard to appearance. Its elegance stands out in its surroundings. In addition, when our customers first visit the building they say how impressed they are with the building’s appearance,” says Kaštanová’s owner Radek Černý.
